Off Road Practice Days

Whether you are a first time rider or planning to sharpen your racing skills, participants will be encouraged to improve their technical abilities at their own pace.

Experienced instructors will be on site to support each rider's personal development.

The track will be closed to regular riding allowing club members to focus on balance, body positioning, cornering, clutch, brake control and navigating off-road obstacles typically found on trail rides and race courses.

Advance sign-up for Off Road Practice Days is required and regular attendance is recommended.

Those attending must be current NTR members, sign a waiver, have their own bike and wear proper safety gear (helmet, boots, gloves, armour).

Those enrolled should be on site, geared up and ready to ride for 6pm sharp.

Above all be safe and have fun!
